M.2.3. Security and conflict management in time of crisis

Promoting Democracy through Local Authorities

Local authorities are the closest institution to citizens, thus representing the face of democracy in their everyday lives. The training of this cycle aims to strengthen the skills of Libyan Municipalities on inclusive participation, accountability and crisis management, starting from the experiences of University trainers and Municipality staff.

Through this training cycle, participants should be able to:

- Understand key principles of good governance
- Understand what the indicators of performance of good governance are
- Practically translate the theory of participatory democracy into the local day–by–day governance of a municipality

EVALUATION OF "CYCLE 2" ACTIVITIES IN LIBYA

In order to monitor training activities and improve their effectiveness, the following activities are conducted in each training cycle:

- Self assessment before/after the training
- Evaluation by participants
- Evaluation by trainers

Overall, the results of the evaluation are positive with some comments that should be taken into account as "action points" for the following training cycles.

Satisfactory 3,4%
Well 38,8%
Excellent 57,8%

Participants' evaluation on the overall grade of the training

Satisfactory
